New Leadership

April 2019

A screenshot of the Democracy Earth website's Colorado General Assembly interface. It shows a dashboard with sections for "Happening Now" (listing the K-5 Social And Emotional Health Act: HB19-1017), "BUDGET" (FY19-20 and FY20-21), and "DELEGATES" (no delegations). There is also a "WEB VOTE" button with a progress bar at 100.00%. The URL in the browser is https://colorado.democracy.earth.

A screenshot of a WIRED article titled "COLORADO TRIED A NEW WAY TO VOTE: MAKE PEOPLE PAY—QUADRATICALLY". The article discusses the implementation of quadratic voting in Colorado's legislature. It includes a photograph of the Colorado State Capitol interior and a quote from Chris Hansen, Chair of House Appropriations.

Newsom wants companies collecting personal data to share the wealth with Californians

By JAZMINE ULLA | MAY 05, 2019 | 5:00 AM | SACRAMENTO

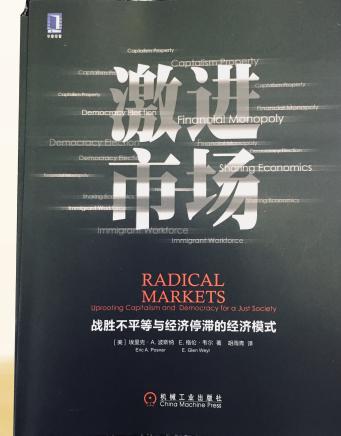

Gov. Gavin Newsom says state consumers should get a "data dividend" from technology companies like Google and Facebook that make money by capitalizing on the personal data they collect. (Rich Pedroncelli / Associated Press)

Methods

- Replacing capitalism from within by developing ideas, communities, and organizations that practice fairer and more efficient forms of organization.
- Challenging basic inherited institutions by building better, modernized ones
- Increasing public knowledge about the emancipatory potential of new ideas in mechanism design
- Evolving our vision from the bottom up, coexisting with and working within existing institutions, and building public good providers that benefit people and communities
- Future we believe in: A world where power rests in diverse and emergent democratic organizations.

Core Values

- Openness: RadicalxChange is open. It seeks to facilitate a free exchange of ideas in an environment of thoughtful discourse.
- Egalitarianism: Many of the ideas at RadicalxChange are animated by a belief that hyper-concentrations of wealth are not natural or efficient, and that a more genuinely competitive market system would result in a broader distribution of wealth.
- Dignity: Every person's well-being (financial or otherwise) is a good in itself. We want our work to reflect and express this.
- Social Innovation: At RadicalxChange we embrace the challenge of overturning stale categories and assumptions! We believe that thoughtful, collaborative innovation can help build better social institutions.
